Fourth Sirca Young Researcher Workshop

CALL FOR PAPERS – SUBMISSION DEADLINE 30 APRIL 2014

The fourth Young Researcher Workshop led by Sirca's Membership Research Committee (MRC), will be held in Sydney from Thursday 10th – Friday 11th July, 2014. Selected young researchers working or studying in Member universities will travel to Sydney to present their current finance or accounting research, and to receive expert commentary on the research from a member of the MRC. To date Sirca has held three workshops all of which have received extremely positive feedback from the participants.

We now invite young researchers to submit a current research paper for possible inclusion in the fourth workshop. Submitted papers should be sufficiently advanced to benefit from feedback and suggestions from a seminar presentation. Please submit papers to: callforpapers@sirca.org.au. Notification of the six papers to be included will be made by 15 June 2014, at which time we will also advise the nominated MRC referee who will discuss the paper at the workshop. These six presentations will be made on Friday 11 July 2014. Sirca will also invite a further group of nine young researchers to the workshop as attendees and to participate in shorter research presentations on 10 July 2014. Discussions of these shorter presentations will be provided by young researchers attending the workshop. Sirca will meet all reasonable travel and accommodation costs for the presenters and the invited attendees.

To qualify for inclusion at least one of the authors of the submitted paper must be a young researcher. We define a young researcher to be a person currently engaged in PhD research or one whose PhD thesis was completed less than five years ago. We particularly encourage young researchers in regional universities to apply for the workshop. We prefer papers that are sole authored by a young researcher, however jointly authored papers also qualify. Sirca wants to track the progress of papers submitted at this workshop and therefore be kept informed of publication outcomes.

The MRC has the following academic members:
